

Dear Chairman Powell and Commissioners,
Television is failing to inform our citizens aboutr the election, even PBS is falling down on the job. At the local level there is virtually none at all.

When I see a list of candidates for various local offices I have no idea who they are and I am someone who goes out of his way to try to stay informed.

I think you should get involved.

Can't you require that TV and radio stations have more informative programming especuilly right before an election?

Sincerely,

Richard Hoskins
